Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicants' argument is not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "executable code that generates a quasi-static copy of a web page is scheduled at periodic intervals") are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Li does teach an executable code that generates a quasi-static copy of a web page (i.e., the web server 38 sends this dynamically generated page 50 to the web browser 30, it may also store this page 50 to cache 36, col. 4 lines 13-21) is invoked at defined intervals (i.e., periodically refreshing/synchronizing the web pages in the cache 36 through the web server 38, col. 4 lines line 34-36).
